Hi [Client Name],

Your Holiday Cards present your family to everyone you care about during this special season, so the quality should reflect how important those relationships are. Press Printed Cards use professional-grade printing that makes your photos look stunning – with rich, accurate colors and sharp details on premium cardstock.

The quality difference is immediately noticeable during the busy holiday mailing season. These cards have substance that people can feel, and they're printed with archival inks that won't fade over time. They become the holiday cards people keep, display on their fridge, and save in their memory boxes.

Ready to select which images from your latest session would work beautifully for your Holiday Cards? The printing quality will do complete justice to your beautiful family and the photos you've invested in for this special season.

Best wishes,

[Your Name]
